Welcome!

eBooks at the Goodnow Library

At the library, we are all getting lots of questions this holiday season about how to get library eBooks on a variety of devices. In case you receive (or give) one as a gift, here's where you can find info at your fingertips when you need it. Coming up in the new year there will be opportunities for you to learn how eBooks work through classes at the library. In the meantime, these links will help you get started:

- The Digital Media Catalog is a great place to start.
- Getting Started is your Quick Start Guide.
- Download the Media Console to your desktop or mobile device.

There is more good news! We will be adding many more eBooks into our OverDrive Advantage collection (for Goodnow users only). These books are a combination of extra copies of highly requested titles and new titles that weren't included in the shared Minuteman collection (mostly titles that are currently highly requested in print at Goodnow).

And remember, your "Virtual" Library is open 24/7/365: Although the library is closed for the holidays, your Virtual Branch is always open. You don't have to wait until the New Year to download your next book; you can browse, check out and download eBooks and more from the comfort of your new Snuggies!

You are receiving this e-newsletter because you subscribed to the Goodnow Library email list. If you wish to be removed, please let us know.

Why Not Join Our Young Adult Book Discussion Group?

The Young Adult Book Discussion Group meets on the third Wednesday of the month, from 7:15-8:15 pm. On December 21, we will discuss Stargirl by Jerry Spinelli.

When Stargirl enrolls at Mica High, all of the students are in awe, but she especially captures the attention of Leo Borlock, a junior at Mica. With her long flowing brown hair, plain face, and rather eccentric outfits, her classmates don't know whether to love her for having the guts to be different, or hate her for breaking the rules of high school. In fact they react by doing a little bit of both. Together both Leo and Stargirl learn a lesson about conforming to the will of the group versus being yourself.

Questions and suggestions from students and parents are always welcome.

A Call to Young Artists

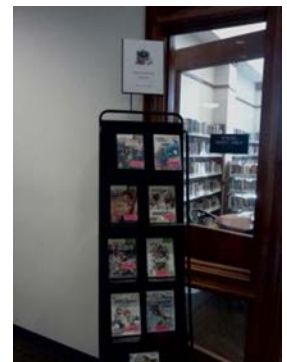

The Young Adult room will be displaying art from artists ages 12-18, who are interested in sharing their creative talent in the form of an art or craft exhibition. Displays of art and crafts by local individuals, groups of friends, private and public art class students in the community are encouraged.

Young Adult Exhibit Guidelines and Request Forms are available at the second floor reference desk. Any questions? Please contact Krista Armstrong-Moon, karmstrong-moon@minlib.net or Cathleen "CB" Bradley at studioceb@comcast.net

The Bookies Book Group

The Goodnow Library "Bookies" Book Discussion Group will meet on Tuesday, Jan. 10 at 7 pm.

The "Bookies:" A group that easily goes undercover while reading books you can really bet on. Read 'em and weep, or laugh... have fun, get smart!

We'll read The Journalist and the Murderer by Janet Malcolm. Published in 1990, this unique book first appeared in the New Yorker Magazine. The author, Malcolm relates that journalist Joe McGinniss may have betrayed convicted murderer Jeffrey MacDonald in McGinniss's popular book Fatal Vision.

Feel free to ask for a copy of the book at the Circulation Desk. We hope you may attend and enjoy a lively, informal discussion. This looks like a book we bet will provoke interesting responses!

Article Requests

Have you come across an article reference and would like to get the entire article? Our Reference Department would be happy to try to locate the article for you. The Reference staff may be able to find the article through sources we can show you, some of which you may be able to access yourself. If further search is necessary, we have a form so the request can be sent for a specialized search through the Boston Public Library. When articles are found and sent to us electronically, we have the option of attaching them to an email delivery for your convenience.

John Sklenak and Debbie Dineen exhibit photographs

John and Debbie will exhibit their photographs together. They share an aesthetic affinity with one another for subjects and treatment they feel are both different and complementary. Here are the statements of each photographer:

John Sklenak

Combining his passion for the outdoors and his enjoyment of the creatures that inhabit it, John Sklenak seeks to capture scenes in a way that will set his work apart from others. His favorites include landscapes, wildlife, sunsets, and candid human behavior.

Although the subject matter is frequently seen in other photos, he tries to capture the scene from a different angle or under different conditions and strives for uniqueness.

With an eye for subject matter and composition, he applies his engineering discipline to strive for "the perfect shot." He will return to frequently photographed sites such as Sudbury's Wayside Inn area to photograph the subject matter in the different seasons, times of the day, and varied weather conditions.

A sampling of John's other work may be seen at: www.blue-heron-studios.com

Debbie Dineen

Debbie has had an interest in photographs for as long as she can remember. As a child, her grandfather's visits were always accompanied by the pop and fizzle of flash bulbs. Later, the fascination of Polaroid instant prints captured her imagination.

Debbie's interest in photography blossomed in 1983 when she got her first 35mm SLR camera. She shot mostly on slide film and processed her own slides. She switched to digital format fifteen years ago and now uses Canon SLRs and lenses exclusively. Debbie enjoys the additional creativity offered in post-processing using Corel Paint Shop Pro. She does all of her own printing using Epson Pro photo printers.

Architecture of nature is one of Debbie's favorite photo themes. Both the intricacies and simple lines created by nature and light are scenes she tries to convey through personal interpretation. Animals, especially whimsical animal portraits and animals in their natural habitat, are a favorite subjects as well. An avid scuba diver, underwater photos are a part of Debbie's collection of work.
