

Goodnow Library - the fitness center for your brain! #investinsudbury

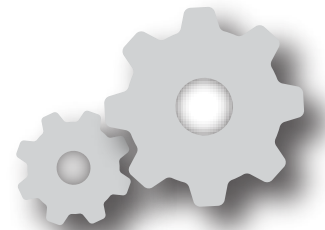

The Goodnow Library Foundation is building a "makerspace" –The Sara Sherman NOW Lab- a community space where all ages can gather to build things, learn and teach new skills, and gain access to traditional and cutting-edge tools and technology. In addition, we are adding a Teen Space, Technology Center, meeting and study areas.

The Goodnow Library Foundation is offering naming opportunities to recognize generous supporters who make key gifts to this renovation. (All gifts $10,000 and under will be acknowledged on a plaque inside the library.)

- Adaptive Learning Toolbox $10,000
- Music Creation Space $10,000
- Creative Arts & Culinary Space $15,000
- Innovation & Collaborative Thinking Space $15,000

Thank you to the following donors who have already stepped forward:

NOW Lab - The Sherman Family
Technology Center - The Ellsworth Family
Teen Space - The Gannon Family
Laptop Bar - The Behrakis Family

In addition to the areas listed, we are looking for gifts to the Goodnow Library Foundation's endowment, Fund for the Future. Building the endowment is a way for you to support the Library in perpetuity. For more information, please contact our Director of Development, Samantha Greenfield, (978) 440-5562 or at goodnowlibraryfoundation@gmail.com